The SENIOR CLASS of 1956

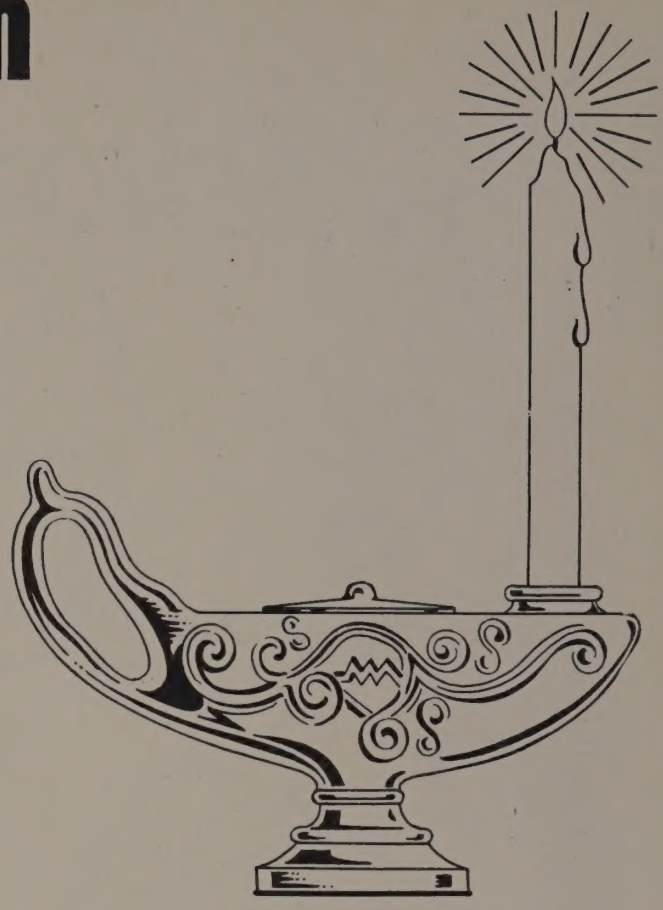
presents the

CADUCEAN

DEDICATION



We, the class of 1956, chose to dedicate this sixth edition of the "Caducean" to a person very interested in Nursing in general, but in student activities in particular.

His willingness to assist us with our problems, though they be large or small, and to lend a helping hand whenever possible, has earned him our life long trust and friendship.

As administrator of Massillon City Hospital since 1951, he has encouraged the growth of the teaching program and has shown himself an interested friend in time of need.

With sincere gratitude and deep appreciation for all he has done, we dedicate the 1956 "Caducean" to Robert L. Zucker.

MASSILLON CITY HOSPITAL

HOWENSTINE HOME

RUSSELL HOME

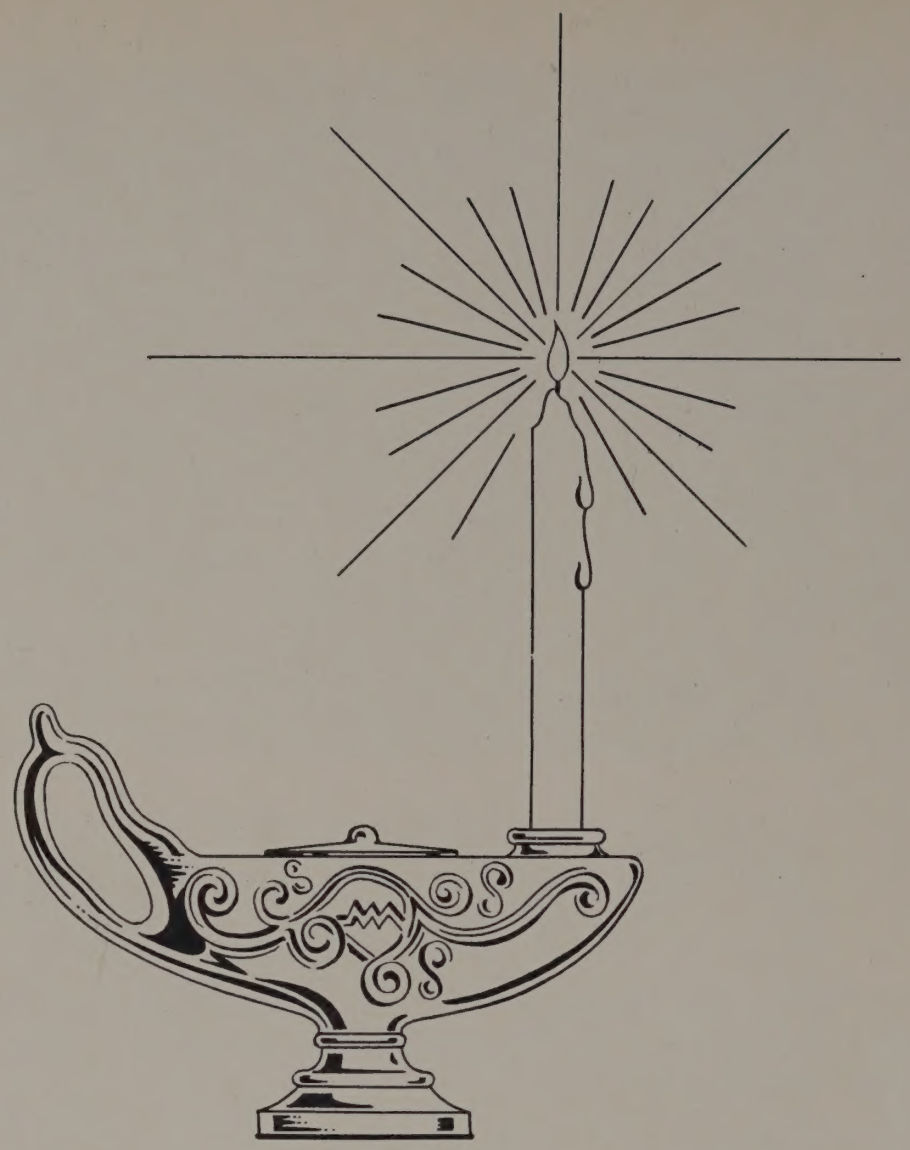
Compliments of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Epps

Massillon City Hospital had its start when Mr. and Mrs. James Pocock donated their small farm to the community. It then had a capacity of 12, but now has grown into a modern hospitalof over 200 beds and serves the entire community of Massillon and outlying areas. The Pocock, Swanson, Republic and Obstetrical Nursing Divisions, and the kitchen and dining rooms have been remodeled and the Malhauser Clinical Labortory is now in use.

The Howenstine Home was the gift of Mr. John L. Howenstine in 1945. This building is the location of the offices and classrooms of the School of Nursing and the home of the Freshman and Junior students.

The Russell Home was the gift of Mr. Charles Russell in 1927. In addition to being a home for the Senior students, it is now the location for a modern Physio-Therapy Department.

Compliments of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Paulson



FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE PLEDGE

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly:

To pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully.

I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug.

I will do all in my power to elevate the standards of my profession, and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my knowledge in the practice of my profession.

With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

Compliments of Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Hensel

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

First row: Robert Zucker, John Luckner, Eastman E. Chandler, George Bond,
Second row: C. R. Finefrock, Vice President; J. G. Lester, A. T. Ellis, Treas.;
R. P. L. McLain, A. J. Blantz, President.

The members of the Board of Trustees hold regular monthly meetings and as the governing board of the Hospital they formulate administrative policies under which the hospital functions. To fulfill all its responsibilities, these men give freely of their time and effort so that the finest in nursing and medical care is assured to the people of our community. To them we owe so much in the fine job they do in the operation of our hospital and school of nursing.

ADMINISTRATOR ▶

The first step in your career of nursing has been completed and the hospital is pleased to congratulate such a fine group of individuals. You have selected a field in which your service to mankind can be unlimited. Your value to the community in which you will serve can never be measured in a material way, however the fullness of life you will receive from your career will clearly establish the validity of your judgement.

Director of Nursing Service.

The real essence of Nursing is in the creative imagination, the generous spirit and the intelligent understanding lying behind the nursing skills you have acquired and attained.

These attainments are yours for keeps--and as a graduate nurse may you cheerish and utilize these talents to bring rewards of satisfaction and happiness in your chosen profession.

You, the Class of 1956, will be walking as a shining light to those who follow in your footsteps---remember the attributes you have acquired and let them guide you on the pathway of life to a successful future.

Finally, s revelation of your true worth will evolve, as each of you step into your new challenge and direct your own knowledge to respond promptly and whole-heartedly to all human wants and needs.

Sincerely,

ACTING DIRECTOR
SCHOOL OF NURSING

Jean Stollar, R. N.

Graduation is the time for remembering-the long hours of study, the many and varied experiences while on the hospital wards, the good times with classmates, the discouraging times when graduation seemed so far off, and the better times when you could see that you were learning and growing.

But gradustion is also a time for looking ahead to the place you will take in your profession. It is the sincere hope of the faculty that each of you will find success and satisfaction in whatever position in nursing you choose. May you be a credit to yourself, to your school and to nursing. You will attain these goals if you remember this one thing--though your days of formal education may be over, always keep it growing.

MRS. GRACE SHORB
Secretary School of Nursing
Afine person who does many little things for all students; but helped the seniors especially to prepare for graduation.

KENT STATE UNIVERSITY

June 21, 1953. This eagerly awaited day was the day that the first section of the class of 1956 entered Kent State University. The students soon made Engleman Hall their home for the three month program at the University.

During these warm summer months the "Hub" seemed to be the favorite spot for after or between class refreshment. Then, too, the swimming pool was most inviting after a hard day in class.

The three months at the University passed swiftly, but none too quickly for these student nurses anxious to get into their bule uniforms and begin patient care.

AKRON UNIVERSITY

September 18, 1953 is a day not to be forgotten by the students who entered the school of nursing with the second section of the class of 1956. This group inaugurated the Akron University program.

Three days a week, students cummute to the university for classes in the basic sciences. Full college credit is given for these courses.

An even bigger day for the students attending Akron University was June 11, 1954--the day of the last final exam. Now all the time could finally be used for education and practice in patient care and regular nursing duties.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Peg Parks-put the gown on herself instead of the patient.
Margie Bennett-sat on the bottom drawer at Kent, and tipped the dresser over with all the cans of food bouncing out.
Georgean Haswell-missed the coffee cup and ended up with a quart of hot water on her leg.
Donna Tintsman-found her bed sheets sewn together and crackers in her bed.
Janet Kopp and Barbara Maple- found raw eggs in their beds.
The night-Mrs. McCampbell burnt her hands on the hot plate.
The morning- the Kent group went to church twice on Sunday morning, with the cat following them, and on the way home a bird flew over Donna T. (was her hair a mess!)
Grilled hotdogs and peppermint toothpicks at the Rainbow.
Ruth Clevenger-was elected for Miss Student Nurse.
Shirley Douglass-remember the little bird in the tree, good thing it wasn't a cow.
Delores Hayes-the first impression you had in Akron when seeing that Big Room.
Clydia Hollins-remember all those unanswered questions because your roommate fell asleep.
Velma Matthews-all those trips from Akron.
Kay Patton-had time to do such beautiful pictures.
June Skelly-was never too tired to study.
Marilyn Wendling-used to tell how a peach was made out of an orange.
Betty Wiskofski-remember the last night in Akron with cheese and Channel 5.
Evelyn Hessedence-curled Leroy's hair for Patsy.
Ellen Law-Moonlite swims with Betty, Barb, and Shirley.
Chris Lekorenous-colostrum, mask of pregnancy.
Patsy Douglas-gave a urinal to a man with a straight drain.
Jeroline Floyd-"I can't, Mr. Hoover." Twitching toes in Dr. Hensel's lectures.
Joan Ronald-the flat tire in the M.C.H. parking lot.
Joanne Thomas-wanted to pull the guinea pig's tail to see its eyes fall out.
Anne Albright-used to enjoy those walks in Sippo Park.
Nancy Bigler-"Big Bill" at M.S.H. asked you to go down the clothes chute with him.
Anna Voegele-was embarrassed because she didn't read a sign over the "john" door.
Shirley Taylor-remember when you cleaned your room?
Diane Wolfe-studied ballet under instructor "Mary"--and don't forget Mitzi.
Sara Klein-had a pain in her big toe.
Rose McClure-how it feels to drive your own car for the first time.
Pat Mason-those regular Wednesday night dates.
Margie Putt-the last night at Akron Children's and your green face.
Every Wednesday the strains of "I'm An Old Cowhand" could be heard from Mason on the way home from Akron.
Bigler-fell in the snowdrift.
Prof. Rogler-asked Wendling "How to grow corn in Iowa"
Trying to sleep flying round those curves.
Edyth Yackey-fried steaks in her room at Kent.

PROPHECY

Time: June 1, 1966
Place: Alumnae supper of class of 1956 at Smithville Inn.
The following is a conversation overheard between Miss Stollar, Director of the School of nursing, and Mrs. Miller, Director of Nursing service.

Mrs. Miller: "And when I think of all the things we went through with those children! It doesn't seem possible that ten years ago today these kids graduated!"

Miss Stollar: "They certainly don't seem to have changed very much, do they? Why there's Edyth Yackey! Did you know that she's supervisor of Maternity Division at the new 200 bed hospital in Strasburg? They tell me she's just a second Miss Miller. Oh, I see Diane Wolfe Hill came all the way from Texas. You know, she went there for a visit and liked it so well she went back there to work. And there's Anna Voegele. Why, I thought she had gone to Germany to teach Nursing Arts. She must be back for a visit. And would you believe it if I told you that Betty Wiskofski is Director of Nursing at Massillon State Hospital? I guess she saw the need for good psychiatric nurses. There's Marilyn (Wendling) Valentine, I wonder if she's still doing general duty at Union Hospital in Dover. You know, she always was partial to her home town, and of course that's where Ted's work is. You know, June Skelly is working on Republic Division with her sister. Those girls really get the work done down there. And there's Joan (Ronald) Graves. My, doesn't she look happy? I heard they've just re-decorated their new home and Ralph has a new barber shop. Oh, and there's Marge (Putt) Shell. They say she is very happy, too. Especially, since little Ronnie was born. And Paggy Parks! Did you know Decca Records recorded her laugh with the barking dogs? I guess she's making a small fortune."

Mrs. Miller: " Who would have thought ten years ago that we would ever see this whole class together again at one time? Of course, some of the girls never left us. There's Rose McClure. She's giving excellent nursing care on Swanson Nursing Division. And there's Ellen (Law) Colaner. She's very interested in the new out-patient clinic connected with the Emergency Room. Massillon always did need one. Why, there's Velma Matthews! Her schedule between flights is pretty close, you know. She is flight nurse for the United Airlines. And Kay Patton made it back! I hear she's doing Interior Decorating in Pediatric units all over the United States. This class certainly did scatter! But there is another group just arriving. Let's see who it is! Why it's Pat Mason! She's surgery supervisor at the Cleveland Clinic. And Barbara Maple--Say, since her post-graduate course in Pediatrics, she's been working at Akron Children's Hospital. She always did have a way with children."

Miss Stoller: " Why there's our Assistant Administrator, Mr. Lekorenos. He certainly fulfilled his ambition. Since he was once a student, he's all for them, also. Look, there is Evelyn Hessedence. I wonder if she has any of her stuffed toys along. You know, she has a chain of toy stores now. Well, if there isn't Jeroline (Floyd) Watts! She must have come all the way from Korea, where her husband is stationed. You know, he made a career of the Army."

Mrs. Miller: " Oh, there's Anne Albright! She's another one who stayed with us. She's head nurse in the Nursery now, you know. Margie (Bennett) Pettit! She's just returned from Paris with her husband. You know, Jack is a Naval officer. I must see her, and ask about all the latest fashions over there. Why there's Donna Tinstman, I understand she and Chuck have a chain of Rest Homes all over the state."

Miss Stoller: " Oh wait, there's Nancy Bigler. She's working in Florida now, and what a beautiful tan! And there's Ruth Clevenger. Her plane just arrived a few hours ago. She's a Missionary abroad, you know. There's Shirley Douglas, too. She arrived on the same plane. She has an excellent position in a V.A. hospital in New Mexico. Say, there's Patsy Douglas. I heard her say she'll have to leave early, because Doug is there with the children and has to get to bed early in order to get up in the morning to milk all those cows. Georgean Haswell arrived with her husband, Dr. Sigmund Freud. They met while she was in the WAF's. Oh, and here comes Delores Hayes; you know she does nursing duties during the day, and runs a sewing shop at night. Our anesthetist, Clydia Hollins, just arrived. We hear she has a lovely new home. And isn't that Janet (Kopp) Kedzuf? I understand she has five boys and three girls."

Mrs. Miller: " Why there's Shirley Taylor. I hear she and Rich live in one of those new modern hundred foot house trailers. And Sara Klein, I was certainly surprised when she took the surgical nursing instructor's position since Vicky Ross got married. Gosh, we'd better hurry, it's time for the meeting to start."

Twila Howlett, Secretary-Treasurer

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The entire student body of Massillon City Hospital School of Nursing belongs to the Student Nurse Organization of Massillon. Students are elected by popular vote to serve as President, Vice President and Secretary-Treasurer. These officers lead the activities of the organization.

Various committees are appointed to deal with student affairs, such as Library, Activity, Housekeeping, Program, Judiciary, and Constitution and By-Laws. These committees are composed of a chairman, usually an upper classman, and several other students from the various classes. Each committee has a faculty member who acts as a counselor.

Disciplinary problems within the student body are handled by the honor system. The student body, through its government sets up rules and regulations and deals with students who break these rules. Each student is given a chance to report her own misdemeanors to a judiciary committee and make an explanation of her conduct. Then the committee decides on what disciplinary measures should be administered.

The student body has a mass meeting once a month at which time all committees report on their activities. Interesting and educational programs are presented.

Who borrows all your ready cash?
Your roommate.
Whose talk is senseless haberdash?
Your roommate.
Who confiscates your ties and socks?
Who smokes the last one in the box?
Your roommate.
Who always borrows, never lends?
Your roommate.
Who brings around your low-brow friends?
Your roommate.

Who brings around his low-brow friends?
Your roommate.
Who breaks the furniture and the lamps?
Who uses up your postage stamps?
Who corresponds with movie vamps?
Your roommate.
Who's loudest when you're feeling punk?
Your roommate.
Who laughs at you when you flunk?
Your roommate.
But who's a constant friend yo you?
Who overlooks the things you do?
Who knows and loves you through and through?
Your mother.
